SOCIALIST MAKES ATTACK ON KAISER

Herr Hoffman Was Accused of High Treason, But Allowed to Continue

INCREASE FOR EMPEROR

Kaiser Will Enjoy Another Half Million Dollars for His Annual Expenditures

Berlin, June 8.—The government measure increasing the royal civil list was sent to the committee in the Prussian Diet today, but not until the Socialist opposition to the measure had been vented with a freedom that raised a hubbub. Herr Hoffman, speaking for the Socialists, severely criticised the Emperor's habit of living luxuriously while His Majesty advised the working people to economize.

When the speaker declared that all state servants even the chief, should be elected by the people, shouts of protest were raised and the president called the Hoffman to order, charging that he was giving offence to constituents of high treason.

When he was permitted to continue, the Socialist leader suggested that the King of Prussia should be paid a daily allowance when on duty in the same way as the members of the Reichstag were rewarded for their services to the State. This suggestion caused another demonstration and Hoffman was again called to order.

The measure provides for an increase in the King's annual allowance of $300,000, with an additional sum of $37,500 for the support of the royal theatres. All parties in the Diet except the Socialists favor the increase.

BEST CUSTOMER IS BRITISH EMPIRE

Britishers Buy Over Two Hundred Millions Worth of Yankee Goods a Year

NEARLY HALF EXPORTS

Great Britain Takes Forty Per Cent. of American Manufactures Sent to Europe

Washington, June 8.—British territory is the world's greatest market for American manufactures.

In fact of the fact that Great Britain is Europe's greatest manufacturer and the world's greatest exporter of manufactures, nearly one-half of all the exported manufactured products of the United States goes to British territory and forms more than a third of all the exports to those lands.

These facts are disclosed in a summary compiled by the bureau of statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

By the term British territory is meant the United Kingdom, Canada, and all other lands which float the Union Jack, even to the distant at Hong Kong and the British Islands in Ocean.

British territory in Europe in 1909 took $12,000,000 of American manufactures.

British North America, $7,000,000, British Asia $1,000,000, and even British Africa took $7,000,000.

Thus Great Britain buys 40 per cent. of all American manufactures sent to Europe, 40 per cent. of all those exported on the North American continent, one per cent. of those to South Africa, 74 per cent. of those to Oceania, and one per cent. all sent to Asia. British territory then is a pretty good customer. All in all, it bought $25,000,000 of Yankee goods in 1909.

Of the unmanufactured products of the United States, British territory takes 48 per cent.

ALL JOIN IN WAR ON WHITE PLAGUE

Municipalities Throughout Dominion Report Favorably to Conference

Montreal, June 8.—The Daily News, which is recognized as the ministerial organ, intimated yesterday that although it is undecided whether the government has considered the advisability of inviting Mr. Balfour and the other Conservative leaders to a discussion of the political situation, this may solve the present mix-up which resulted from the rejection by the Lords of the Lloyd-George budget. If there is no agreement there probably will be an appeal to the voters in the fall.

GOLDWIN SMITH'S DREAM POSSIBLE

"Ralph Connor" Pays Tribute to the Aged Sage of the Grange

NOT AN ANNEXATIONIST

Rev. Dr. Gordon Says That Goldwin Smith's Ideas Were Misunderstood

Halifax, June 8.—Rev. Dr. Gordon (Ralph Connor) was seen at the Presbyterian General Assembly and was asked to say something about the late Goldwin Smith. The reply of the author of "The Sky Pilot" was as follows:

"Goldwin Smith put himself out of touch with the Canadian national ideal and the imperialistic ideal. He was classed as an annexationist, but I do not think that word in its ordinary acceptation properly classified him. His dream was a great Anglo-Saxon empire for this continent, not necessarily requiring severance from Great Britain though he would not shrink from that. Without assuming to describe fully his policy I have the conviction that he was not far away in his idea of a union expressed recently by one of his statements that Canada might be the medium of influence in bringing about an Anglo-Saxon unity embracing the British Empire and which unity would guarantee and preserve the peace of the world. I venture to think that the realization of this dream will not be very long deferred."

If there is no agreement there probably will be an appeal to the voters in the fall.

PROPHETS AT WORK

London, June 8.—There is a revival of political speculation. With the first meeting of the Asquith cabinet since the death of King Edward the newspapers are busily making prognostications which are generally colored by party.

What course of action has been decided upon remains a secret. A well-known liberal member of parliament, who while not occupying a cabinet post, has very close relations with several ministers, said this afternoon, that he did not believe the question of the Lords' veto would be forced to issue for the present.

WILL E. H. RILEY HAVE OPPOSITION?

It Is Said He Is Not the Most Popular Man in Gleichen Constituency

NO CONVENTION CALLED

II Conservative Is Nominated Straight Liberal Will Make it Three-Cornered Fight

The Calgary Albion says:

There will be an election in Gleichen.

That is the information conveyed to the Albion last night by some people in the riding. But the contest is liable to develop into a sectional battle rather than a political battle. The people to the east of the riding believe that Gleichen should have a member from that part of the district. They say that Mr. Riley was never in touch with that part of his long riding. He does not go among them very often and he never consulted.

Mr. Riley fought hard for the agricultural college, but even in that he seems to have run up against some of the members of that district.

The Gleichen people have not decided who they will run, but they are going to run some person. They are waiting to see how the land lays and how it is going to develop. They say that if a Conservative is put in the field from that part of the riding, he will be a straight Liberal, will be put in the field from that part of the riding. If no candidate is put in the field from here it is possible that an independent candidate will be put up in that district.

Mr. Emlil Griesbach, a merchant of the town of Gleichen, is prepared to run. He is a Conservative at heart.

Mr. Riley has taken no further action in connection with the battle in his riding and has not yet called a convention.

BLAME AMERICANS FOR EARTHQUAKE

Mob of Italians in Affected District Attacked a Party of Clergymen

Rome, June 8.—A report received from Avellino described the narrow escape from death at the hands of a superstitious mob of a party of American clergymen who happened to be in the province when the earthquake occurred. Some of the panic-stricken population believed that the calamity was due to the curse of the clergy and men and attacked them with the purpose of hanging them. Fortunately the police learned of the assault and rescued the ministers.

Guelph, June 8.—"Unqualified, yet very decided," was the disapproval which was expressed by the Hamilton Methodist Conference in the case of a notorious literature circulation company of St. Paul and King. The extent of the evil traffic was also referred to with regret and it was thought that the law as it now stands was not sufficiently severe.

"He was not in the barn with us."

"But he was with you in the office."

Donahue was then asked if King had a heard on his face and answered that he had about three weeks' growth.

"Yet you identified the photo in court, of a clean shaven man, as being King. Wouldn't a beard change the appearance greatly?"

"It might."

"King left the office at about six o'clock and came back about an hour afterward."

"Yes."

"That is not an unusual thing to do, is it?"

"No."

Mr. Mackenzie, of the Dominion Land Office, was the next witness and was just called to show that Hindahl had taken up the SW. quarter 43-1, west of Ponoka, in June 1906, which was cancelled by default in November, 1907.

Mr. Parkes, the next witness, was shown a chain in court, and said that it had been given him by King and he had kept it until last summer, when he traded it with a man who worked for the G.T.P. construction.

GOLDWIN SMITH

Some months ago an English review referred to "the miracle of Goldwin Smith." The writer's meaning was obvious. Fifty years before, he had been a leading man of letters, a great mid-Victorian figure, and here was a decade after the dawn of the twentieth century, still taking an active part in the discussion of those matters which lie closest to the interests of the race, his never-idle pen as efficient as ever.

Men like Freeman, Froude and others of less distinction, who have long since passed into history, occupied the turn of the century in modern history in the University of Oxford, one of the greatest posts in the academic world. Goldwin Smith was their predecessor. The period in which Disraeli was to the fore in British politics is a long distance removed from our own, and he was a celebrated novelist before he stood in the forefront as a politician. Yet in his best remembered work, "Lothair," Goldwin Smith figured, in a very thin disguise, as a leading character. Some time ago he told of a conversation he had in his youth with a lady who knew the elder Pitt.

In a very real sense, therefore, it may be said with truth that the past has been severed by the death of "the sage of the Grange" in Toronto yesterday.

This is hardly the place to attempt an adequate review of the services of so distinguished a publicist and scholar. Certain it is that he will always rank with the great masters of English prose. But he was much more than this. The cause of honesty of thought has never had a more doughty champion and the forces of folly and ignorance have much less of a hold in this world because of him. In the course of his life he has made his home for forty years; it is only of late that he has been appreciated to anything like the extent that a man of his character and reputation should have been. This was perhaps inevitable in a new country. But it has meant much, nevertheless, in the upbuilding of the nation, to have had him with us during this formative period in our history.

A VOICE FROM THE SOUTH

During the controversy which has resulted in the retirement of Mr. Rutherford from the premiership, the Edmonton Free Press has been a very strong opponent of the government. The Capital has had occasion to quote its articles from time to time, so this is no news to our readers. The following from its last issue has accorded not a little interest. Discussing the cabinet change, it says:

"Information, at least the younger element, that has been disclosed that the Hon. Chas. Cross will have a seat in the new cabinet. Perhaps, we will. If he does not, his successor will find that Charlie Cross is a hard man to follow. His worst enemy—and they are as few as his teeth—will admit that he was the biggest man in the Rutherford government, and by far the ablest fighter. His defence of the A. & G. W. contract was a masterpiece and placed him in the front rank of parliamentary debaters, while his administration of the legal department of the government was unequalled. The C. & W. will breathe easier when he is deposited, and it is doubtful policy for the insurgents to follow up their temporary victory with a demand for his political life. Cushing has danced, and his hopper houchee has pleased Herod, but when he demands Hon. Chas. Cross' head on a charger the applause dies down to a mealy whisper."

"Ability, backed up by the ambition and determination that Hon. Cross possesses, will ever be prominent, and the man needes now to advance farther on a thousand leagues further in the career of men. In the political world, it may be dimmed, but take it from one who knows the man as a personal friend, the present inconstancy will develop into a national spotlight and Hon. Charlie will be there with his smile, his serenity, and his suitable suggestion."

The Free Press appears to take a brighter view of the nature of the political change than do the leaders whom it has been following. Mr. Riley has resigned his seat as a protest against the new order of things, and in doing so, denounces Mr. Sifton in quite as violent language as he used in reference to Mr. Rutherford and his colleagues. It is evident that he regards himself as the dictator that the Free Press imagines, for he has wired his approval of Mr. Riley's course. However, this does not alter the significance of this out-spoken approval from the extreme south of the province of the action of the large majority of the people of Edmonton in urging upon Mr. Sifton that the member for this city should have a place in his cabinet.

What Others Say

FROM THE BENCH TO THE MINISTRY

(Toronto Star)

A contemporary comments severely on the action of the Hon. A. L. Sifton in stepping down from the bench to lead the government of Alberta. The theory is that a man who goes upon the bench leaves behind him all his bias, all his prejudice, political or otherwise, and becomes a sort of embodiment of law. The theory is that a judge is human, and retains plenty of prejudices of all kinds, though he may strive honestly to do justice. His peculiarities become known to the bar, and lawyers manoeuvre to get a case before him or to avoid him as their clients' interests may dictate.

If a judge finds himself pining for political strife, or believes that he can better service as a Minister than as an interpreter of the law, it is surely better that he should follow his inclination. To keep him on the bench gains him the interest of all who convert him to legal magick. It would be said that Canadian experience of judges coming back into politics has been fortunate. The practice gave us Sir Oliver Mowat as Premier of Ontario, and Sir John Thompson as Premier of Canada. Both these men carried into politics a judicial spirit, which added to the dignity of the legislative bodies of which they were members, while their skill as jurists was useful in shaping legislation. If the Hon. A. L. Sifton does as well, neither he nor Alberta will have reason to regret the step he has taken.

There is another point of resemblance between Sir Oliver Mowat and the Hon. A. L. Sifton. Mr. Mowat was placed at the head of Ontario affairs five years after the new Province was constituted, and thus had a large share of the work of laying the foundations of provincial law. Mr. Sifton becomes premier of Alberta in the fifth year of its history, and will thus have an opportunity of shaping its legislation in the early and formative portion of its career.

CANADA'S GREETING TO THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

(J. W. Bengough in Toronto Globe)

Here is a sister's earnest heart and hand

Happy natatal greetings unto thee; Not as a feeble babe in swaddling band,

But to a Union, gracious, strong and free;

Sprung full-grown from the wondring southern sea;

A new Minerva, blest with ample

Of wisdom and self-government, to share

The burden and the pride of British power,

A world-wide Empire's glory and its care;

Here's heart and hand to thee today,

O sister fair!

As in this wide, true North, by Heaven's grace,

Our eyes have greeted Unity's fair dawn,

And ancors old to love have given place;

Ancient feuds of race and tongue are gone,

And in the part of nationhood we're one,

So may it be with thee; o'er thy domain,

Of far-flung veldt, and mountain, stream and rand,

May Boer and Briton, bound in flowery chain,

Of mutual faith, as brothers, hand in hand,

Raise freedom's flag to kiss the sky o'er freedom's land!

A glorious Answer art thou, Union new,

To serpent tongues that hissed of Britain's shame

As ruthless spoiler of the weak and few;

Through years of silent stress she bore the blame,

English was spoken by 22,000,000 people at the beginning of the nineteenth century. Now more than a hundred million people speak it.

Selling by Weight

There is a country-wide agitation in favor of selling vegetables and groceries by weight instead of measure. Beginning today, some 400 of the best grocery stores in Cleveland will use the plan, probably cutting down within comparatively short time the dry measure method of sale and purchase of these commodities which will be practically abolished. The change is Cleveland comes as a voluntary concession on the part of the Retail Grocers' Association and may be due in part to the general public demand some months ago that some remedy be found for the rising cost of living. Through their national organization the grocers have long urged the adoption of the weight system.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

One Hundred Million Now

After seeing the blood, and was afraid to go further but something awful would happen to him.

William Robertson, Jr., of Millet, tried to bring the car and to get his handing it over to the Mountie Police.

Thomas Hood, a liverman, stated that he remembered a man bringing a black team to his stable on March 10th. He had thought that the man was a Mountie Police.

Cross-examined by Mr. Robertson, the witness made a somewhat peculiar admission. He stated that before he set out for Millet on Tuesday, Redfern had told him all about the horse. Mr. Robertson had thought that the man was a Mountie Police.

He had described, go back home and tell his wife when he might have told her before. In sporting parlance, it looked as though Wese got cold feet.

SEVERAL TELL OF MARKS ON TRAIL

Different Witnesses at King's Trial Report Story of Seeing Blood Stained Cap

THEY ALL SAW SLEIGH

Evidence Taken Yesterday Afternoon Only Corroborated That of the Previous Witnesses

In the case of W. O. King yesterday afternoon, several people told of what they had seen on the Aecker trail along which road King and Dahlal are said to have gone together.

Before these witnesses were called, George Michaels asked permission to rectify a statement that he had made in the witness box in the morning in which he claimed to have seen Dahlal in June. He said that it was in February or early in March that he had seen the man.

Ferdinand Lessing, farmer, living six and a half miles south of Leduc, said that while he was driving south to Millet on March 10th, 1907, he met black team and sleigh. One of the horses, the witness stated, had a white star on its forehead. There was only one man in the sleigh, and the driver inquired the way to Leduc, the witness giving him the necessary directions. Asked to describe the sleigh, the witness said that it had planks, such as are used in gravel cut on either side. Over the top was a blanket. Lessing said that he would not recognize the driver again.

On March 12th, two days later the witness went over the same ground and this time he noticed a big half full of blood in some hay, it appeared, though somebody had been feeding there. A short piece of the sled was broken off. The sled was black. It was scattered, he said, over a distance of a hundred steps or so. After going a bit further, he came across a fur cap lying by the side of the road. He picked it up and examined it, finding it full of blood. The fur was muskrat. Lessing was shown the cap held by the prosecution, and recognized it as the same he had seen on the road.

Gustav Redmond said that he lived about eight miles from Leduc. On Sunday, March 10th, at about noon, he was working in a window when he saw a black team and travelling south. Being familiar with his neighbour's horse, he knew it was a black team and called his wife's attention to it. There were two men, one of whom was driving while the other was walking behind. A couple of hours later the team passed again, going north, but this time there was only one man in it.

On Tuesday he had occasion to go to Millet and while driving along the road he said he came across the same scene as was described by the previous witness. He saw, what after all, could not be a fur cap lying by the road, but, he said, he thought it was a dead mink.

On his return, however, he examined it and found it full of blood. He was shown the cap in court and identified it.

Ferdinand Wese said that he was at church on Sunday, March 10th, accompanied by his daughter, Aibile. While driving home after service, he noticed a team ahead. The horses, he said, were black. There were two men, just as a previous witness stated, one driving and the other walking.

He did not overhaul the team, as he turned up the road to his home before he came into Millet.

Tuesday Wese had also business in Millet, but he didn't go there. He started, however, but had not gone very far before he saw patches of blood and finally the fur cap.

He examined it and found it as the others had stated. He did not proceed any further towards Millet, but returned home to tell his wife of what he had seen.

Cross-examined by Mr. Robertson, the witness made a somewhat peculiar admission. He stated that before he set out for Millet on Tuesday, Redfern had told him all about the horse.

Mr. Robertson had thought that the man was a Mountie Police.

William Dunn, corroborated his evidence, but he also could not remember the man who was in charge of the team.

CAME FROM BEHIND AND WON ESKIMOS DON BATTING TOGS

Won Initial Game from Regina by 14 to 9—Baxter's Home Run—Quigley Decidedly Makes Good.

To be plunged from the depths of sorrow to the topmost pinnacle of joy, was the experience that 1,100 fans had last evening at Diamond Park. For a time it looked as if Roy Watson, his team, Indians, were on the Eskimos. Goodness me, but the glee that spread over the bleachers and grandstand was thick enough to cut. In addition a few score-hoops took it upon themselves to roast some of the home players for unfortunate errors. Added to this Umpire Brown was giving a perfect demonstration of "How not to umpire a baseball game," the visitors were five runs ahead, and taking everything in; it was one of the saddest moments in local baseball history. But, what's that sound that strikes the ears of indifferent spectators, after two were out in the fifth? Somebody has made a noise like a two-bagger! 'Tis Quigley, our new second sacker, and the Indians' first baseman, who, by the way, sprang onto the field, and elegantly hoists it, and Quigley, by suddenly sprinting, shoots across the plate with our first run. Well, it was a start, and life began to take a rosier hue.

After two Eskimos tallies came so fast that four small boys were pressed into service to sharpen the scribers' pencils. But let's start at the beginning, as dear Virgil once stated.

A Harvest Chapter

Jack Grady took the distributing centre for Eskimos, and the press for Eskimos, a slab-artist named Sage, who is reckoned the brightest performer of the Regina galaxy of flingers.

Windy Bill Donovan was greeted with wild applause, tempered with a few hearty cheers when he stepped to the plate. Thinking Bill was a local favorite, Umpire Brown walloped him to first. Chan sacrificed him to second but Lether and Elyot both went out via the Quigley-Westover route. No runs.

Morse and Mills both heat out slow infield hits and Baxter moved them along a peg, by a perfect hunt towards first. With men second and third, Cox* and Lussi were not there with the necessary bunting. No runs.

A Costly Error

Jack Grady had his curve ball lighting sharply, and it had the visitors queuing up to bat. The first batter, man, first up in the second, fanned. Collins singled over second baseman's head, and Walters hit safely to left. With two on, Spencer endeavored to catch Collins off third, and there was a yard wide of third. The ball went to the fence, and both runners scored. McNeill was walked and his battery partner, Sage, fanned. Two runs.

The Harvest Home

Going into the seventh, two runs to the bad, the Eskimos gave a mighty exhibition of their batting. Indeed as this and the following innings was seen the hardest hitting ever witnessed in Diamond Park.

Pete Morse was first up and through over-eagerness to start something, knocked a weak grounder to second. Mills waited patiently and received a front seat with Mr. Elyot. Then Moose came forward and there were shouts for a home run. Moose waited until one to his liking came along, and then he combed it. It shot deep right center, and the short sacker with a look of triumph this was! It was a magnificent hit and the long, long this season. With two runs in the score was tie and the crowd yelled for more. They got them. Chesty hit one to left with considerable velocity and Mighty Swatmish Lussi followed up his triple with a double. Quigley pulled hard for a safety but Lether got under his shorty. Stan Spencer was the hitting kid at this moment and scored. Cox and Lussi with a sharp single to left. Drexco grounded out. Four runs.

The Fourth Innings

McNeill again got at first by Pete Morse. Sage got a base on balls, and when Grady had him struck out, Brown saw it differently. Donovan leant out a hit to Baxter. Chan fanned, but Lether scored. Sage with a single through the pitcher's box. Mills caught Elyot's hard fly.

And Still Another

Hoffman was passed to first to start the fifth and Collins noticeably bent himself in the way of a pitched ball. Billford Brown gave Bowery the wise. Lether was the first to just inside second base. Our classy shortstop was right on the job, catching Collins at second and pegging to Quigley, who covered first, and old Grady and Mills. Chesty made a dandy hit through third and Moose beat the return throw to the plate. Cox taking second, Lussi presented for the edification of the fans a charming little playlet entitled "Makin' my third hit," and Chesty scored during the progress of the drama. Quigley was on deck with another two-sacker and Lussi hit the dust at home plate.

Pitcher Sage was looking as much out place as a spark—a snowbank, so Roxy Walters signalled him to bend, and took up the reins of office. Roxy, however, is a veritable performer, as he caught Stan on a fly and fanned Drexco. Five pins did the bell ring at the close of this innning, and the shout that the heavens were tremulous.

A Consolation Prize

With the score 14 to 7, Grady eased up in the last innning, and allowed the visitors two runs on singles by Hoffman and Collins, followed with Mc'Neill's two base hit.

Victors Shoot Bolt

Bowery Collins started the seventh with a single through short. Pete Morse, a sleeker-looking right out of the turf, but the runner was already on the initial sack. Roxy sacrificed Collins to second and Bowery took third on McNeill's scratch hit to Grady. Then these mighty base-runners were out-guessed and out-played by Spencer and Morse. Mac dashed for second and Collins made a break for home! Stub snapped the ball to second, and Pete pegged it home in time to catch Collins at a city block. It was a neat play. Sage fanned for the second time.

CITY LEAGUE REFEREES

The competition will open to every team in Divisions A, B and the ownership of the cup will be decided by a knockout series. The draw will be published later.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM WILL CHALLENGE

London, June 7.—At a meeting today the committee of the Hurlingham Club, it was definitely decided to challenge this year for the International cup, now in the possession of the Meadowbrook club.

The team to be selected will consist of the best Britishers, R. and F. Grenfell, the Duke of Roxburghe, and Lord Woodhouse.

The Duke of Roxburghe is lending his stable of ponies to Lord Woodhouse and the ponies will be shipped about July 10.

Capt. E. B. Miller will accompany the team in place of Capt. Lloyd, whose attempt to organize a challenge running four failed.

Quigley, the second baseman, is a finished baseball player and looks like the goods. Glance at this record: A.B., 5. Runs, 1. Hits, 3. (two were doubles). Stolen bases, 1. Put outs, 4. Assists, 5. Errors, 0. You see us, Quigley.

HOME RUNS

Globules of Joy Inspired by the Hottest Last Evening—A Glorious Victory

They sure are hitting foods.

Sage was rather withered by the middle of the eighth.

The visitors lost their pepper round about the sixth inning.

There are about nine 300 Pet. hits on that Edmonton team.

Alas, no box cars last night. What a blow to the deadheads!

That home of Baxters was a dandy effort. And it tied the score.

It is up to us to take three games from Medicine Hat. And then for Carney's phantom champions.

Carney does not deny the fact that Brooksins has been ruled out of several managers in the league claim, there will be a couple of damage suits

PRES. ECKSTORM IN TROUBLE?

If the Regina Club Can Prove Brooksins Is Not a Negro It Will Sue Eckstorm

They are hitting foods.

President Eckstrom of the Western Canada League, thinks that he has heard the last about the Brooksins affair he is sadly mistaken.

The Regians are set to sue the president to the bitter end. Brooksins is at present in Regina and it is the intention to keep him there until Secretary Farrel of the National Association gives a definite ruling on the question. If the Regina club is upheld in their contention that Brooksins is an Indian and not a negro as several managers in the league claim, there will be a couple of damage suits against Eckstrom. Every newspaper photographer in San Francisco, June 8.—"Waiting for Jack" might be the title for the comedy staged every once in a while at the road house on the Ocean Beach boulevard—where Jack Johnson is training.

As I have said before, Johnson came long before he wanted to tear himself away from the noise and bustle of Chicago. Although forced by the demand of his manager to come west, he refused to begin training until he was good and ready and in the interim buzzed about like a big wasp in his gasoline gig.

Every newspaper photographer in San Francisco, with a sprightly from coast cities and one or two from the east, developed into regular John while Johnson was bennazining around the country.

The sharpshooters got the habit of dropping around every morning, tearing Johnson might not keep his charge with being a negro, has the charge ever been investigated?

The clubs, with whom the player was at the time have always taken the charge at its face value and fired him off their teams.

Regina is acting differently in the matter and intend settling this case, once and for all. President Smith, of the Regina baseball club, is making exhaustive inquiries and getting affidavits from many persons who claim to know him well, and the assumption to fight the case and have the statements proved. In no case in which Brooksins has been charged with being a negro, has the charge ever been investigated.

The sharpshooters got the habit of dropping around every morning, tearing Johnson might not keep his charge with being a negro, has the charge ever been investigated?

Jack Condemns

Every one of the crowd knew how the girl felt who was waiting at the church long before Johnson made up his mind to do his stint before the picture machines. The Tampa rockin' chair fleet of '98 were victims of nervous prostration ages sooner than the crowd on the back porch at Johnson's began to grow weary.

The Capital has stated before, the president of this league should do a man connected in no way with any team in the League, and that knowledge is like a rock. Last year there was the cry that Fleming was doing his best for Medicine Hat, and his hanging around the players, batch only served to heighten that impression.

This year the same old cry is being heard. Regina claims that Eckstrom ruled out Brooksins because the Bopilers tried to get possession of Firstbaseman O'hayer of the Miners. Now if we had a man disinterested in any club, there would be no claims like this one.

We do not doubt that Mr. Eckstrom is trying to do the best for his club, which is up to him, which involves the Lethbridge club, in which he is financially interested, and some other one, which do you think will get the best of the decision?

Unless Mr. Eckstrom is different from any man we ever met, he is bound to lean slightly towards the team that he himself owns.

Edmonton has had occasion to run up against the president on several occasions. The first time was when Humphries impired a game between the Eskimos and Miners and showed partiality to the latter.

Second time was in the matter of the suspension of Olsen and Baker. Longuecker fined each player ten dollars and suspended them for three days.

Eckstrom very kindly, but sternly, told the sentences. The phony part about the whole matter was the fact that Lethbridge would be the team to play the crippled Eskimos. It was probably only a coincidence on each occasion, but it has left us rather a poor opinion of the league president.

If the ingrates had, at their meeting, chosen a president like Mr. Pitts, who is a clear student of baseball and has no interest in any league team, then a number of the squabbles that have cropped up this year would never have been heard of.

Probably when Mr. Eckstrom hears the last about the Brooksins case, he will be glad to vacate the presidential chair, and let an experienced man take his place.

CIVIC BUSINESS IS CENTRALIZED

Council Adopts Report of Commissioners on Their Duties and Powers

ABOLISH THE POLL TAX

Council Decides on Civic Reception to Sir Wilfrid Laurier When He Visits Here

WHAT WAS DONE

Jasper avenue paving report adopted.

Abolition of poll tax decided. Pine Pass Railway Co.'s plan to be filed.

Resolution passed favoring a civic reception to Laurier.

Assisted fare voted to take definite man back to London. Report of Commissioners defining their duties adopted.

That the paving of Jasper avenue from Eleventh street to Sixteenth street should be begun immediately was the decision arrived at by the city council last night. The report of the commissioners recommended that the paving of the car tracks on this avenue be omitted for the present. Allowing for sidewalks fourteen feet wide and omitting a strip of pavement occupied by the car tracks twenty feet wide will leave roadways between curb and railway strip twenty-six feet wide, which is more than ample for accommodation of all traffic on this avenue for some time to come.

The car tracks at street intersections will be planked.

A communication had been received stating that the general route of the Pine Pass Railway Co. was now in the hands of the Minister of the Interior for his approval, and that copies of the plans were on their way to the council. A resolution was made that the plans be duly filed. The Pine Pass Railway will run from Edmonton via the Pine Pass to Fort George.

The commissioners presented a favorable report as to the case of a man reported by the United Aid as being destined to Edmonton, and it was voted to subscribe the amount necessary, combined with the offer of $20 from the United Aid society, to take him back to his home in London, Ont.

Abolish Poll Tax.

The report of the assessment committee which was presented by Ald. Melius favored the abolition of the poll tax. The report recommended that the tax be abolished simply by not enforcing the bylaw under which it is collected. The report was adopted by the council.

A communication had been received from Messrs. Grant and Bishop on behalf of their clients, the Edmonton Stationery Co., requesting the council to amend the bylaw dealing with book-canvassing business. The bylaw in present state would totally prevent the canvassing of books, while it licensed almost every other kind of canvassing. The matter was turned over to the commissioners to investigate.

Reception for Sir Wilfrid.

A civic welcome will be extended to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the occasion of his visit to Edmonton. The course was decided upon as a result of a motion by Ald. Gariety, who emphasized the fact that it was not a party matter, but that in a case of this character, all parties might join in order to do honor to Canada's premier.

"I realize the fact that very few of us are supporters of Sir Wilfrid Laurier," Ald. Hyndman began in rising to second the motion, "but we all have a great admiration for him as Canadian premier."

The motion was carried unanimously. The committee to organize the reception and prepare the address will be selected later.

The invitation of the mayor of Ottawa to the mayor of Edmonton to join in the demonstration at Ottawa to Earl Grey, by the mayors of all the cities, on the occasion of his leaving the country, was held over pending further developments; as it was thought that Earl Grey had already left for England.

Commissioners' Duties.

The report of the Commissioners defining their duties in relation to the city was received favorably except for Ald. Hyndman, who thought that the appointment of heads of departments should be subject to the approval of the council and that the Commissioners should make fuller and more complete reports to the council after the completion of each piece of work.

Ald. Gariety said that he thought that they should not interfere with the administrative power of the Commissioners, while Dr. Melius thought that the position of city engineer should not be subject to the Commissioners.

Commissioner Boileau in defense of the report said that there would be no purpose served by the council reserving the right to confirm appointments. They had to account to the council for all business done by them and there was no chance for anything to go wrong without their knowing it, and it was tending to prevent the city business from being conducted as it should be, i.e., everything systematized and controlled from one central point, which was the condition necessary to first-class efficiency.

HYSTERICS OVER CORONATION OATH

Change, They Say, Would Endanger Hard Won Liberties of the British Empire

PRIEST RIDDEN MONARCH

Lord Kinnaird and Three Thousand Others Gather to Raise a Howl

London, June 7.—Opposition to the proposed change in the form of the accession oath has reached the form of a public demonstration. This was shown yesterday when 3,000 persons, members of the established church, assembled in Albert Hall and organized a church association which will be identified with the evangelical section of the Church of England in the future.

Lord Kinnaird, who presided, denied there was the slightest desire to vex their Roman Catholic brethren, but as he stated, the men who are taking the matter in hand do not even dare to risk the possibility of seeing a priest-ridden monarch ascend the throne of Great Britain. They were not, he added, going to barter their liberties.

As a result of the meeting a telegram was sent to King George protesting that any attempt to alter the declaration would grievously hurt the feelings of the people and endanger the hard won liberties of the Empire of Great Britain. A resolution was also adopted vehemently opposing a revision of the oath pleading "determined resistance to every attempt to tamper with this great constitutional safeguard."

WOMAN SEEKS OFFICE

No Law to Stop Man Voting for Her, She Says

Madison, Wis., June 8.—Mrs. Nellie Archibald, deputy treasurer of Ashland county, and a candidate to become treasurer, in a letter to Attorney General Gilbert, says that there is nothing in the Wisconsin statutes giving women the right to vote.

She says, however, that men are not doing the right thing for women for the sake of office.

Mrs. Archibald has formally announced her candidacy and she wants her name placed upon the regular ballot. The attorney general will issue an opinion in a few days.

ASSEMBLY FOR CHURCH UNION

Report of the Special Committee Was Adopted Amidst Exciting Scenes

GOES TO PRESBYTERIES

They Will Vote on It Next Year and Congregations the Following Year

Halifax, N.S., June 8.—All the commissioners from various parts of Canada and hundreds of Halifax people met in St. Matthew's Church yesterday to hear the debate on Church Union before the general assembly, when forceful addresses in favor were delivered by Dr. Patrill of Winnipeg, and Lieutenant-Governor Fraser, who presented the report of the union committee. The controlling idea was the need of united action in order to cope with the vast demands of religious work in the newer districts of Western Canada. The report, after reviewing the history of the movement since the invitation for negotiations was received from the Methodist Church in 1902, argued that union was the duty of all Christian people, if not forbidden by conscience; that the benefits of union would be many; that union was desired by the greatness of the task of evangelization throughout the world; that the present proposed union might be the precursor of a still wider union. The assembly was, therefore, asked for its formal approval of a basis of union and to send documents to all Presbyteries to be voted upon, such vote to be reported to the assembly of 1911 and final action to be taken in 1912.

The final and decisive vote on the question was taken at the close of the afternoon session. Earlier in the day it had been arranged that at a fixed hour Rev. Dr. Patrill should be given thirty minutes for his closing address and he began to speak at five o'clock. The vote was taken shortly before six o'clock, resulting in a tie. For the adoption of the report of the union committee, 181 against the report, 173.

This vote does not indicate the feeling of the assembly on the question of union in itself. According to the findings of the union committee, the report is to be sent this year to the Presbyterian Assembly for consideration and vote next year to congregations for consideration and vote.

It was argued that the work to be done was so great, as the existing road is merely a trail, which has, however, been prepared for travel. This will have to build three bridges on the way. The different jails in the north will be carefully gone through to get the best class of prisoners.

They will all be men whose terms of imprisonment will be long enough to enable them to finish the work in hand.

"SCABS" SENT TO JAIL

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—Two immigrants, William S. ## PRISONERS WILL BUILD THE ROADS

Ontario Government Will Utilize Men in Jails on Colonization Roads

Toronto, June 8.—The Ontario government is evidently preparing to make radical changes in the treatment of prisoners in custody in the different provincial jails and prisons. Following the establishment of the big Central Prison farm at Guelph, comes the inauguration of a plan whereby the prisoners in the northern jails will be set to making colonization roads throughout northern Ontario.

This was recommended by Hon. Dr. Ross, Minister of Public Works, on his return from the north about two months ago.

The government has established near Matheon on the T. and N. O. Railways a prison camp which will at once begin the construction of a road through to the Porcupine Gold Camp.

About twenty prisoners in all will be employed. They will be taken from jails in the north and suitably guarded while at work. The Prison Department will be responsible for their safe custody, while the Department of Public Works will look after the maintenance of the camp.

All the work of road making will have to be done, as the existing road is merely a trail, which has, however, been prepared for travel. This will have to build three bridges on the way. The different jails in the north will be carefully gone through to get the best class of prisoners.

They will all be men whose terms of imprisonment will be long enough to enable them to finish the work in hand.

JACK ISSUES A STATEMENT

San Francisco, June 8.—That Tom Flanagan will act as business manager for Jack Johnson until after the fight of July 4th is announced at the Blackhead headquarters. Johnson made the announcement in the following signed statement: "Tom Flanagan will help me manage my business affairs until July 5, 1910. While not a prize fighter, he is one of the least known amateur athletes who has ever competed, and is respected for his honesty, and integrity by the press and public world over. When the Marathon craze hit the east, after the Olympic games in London in 1908, Flanagan spent his time and money developing Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian and other famous runners in turning over to the professional ranks in order to secure good competition. I am sorry that I cannot have Flanagan with me for longer time, but his business interests in Canada require his attention and he would not consent to absent himself from them longer."

George Little, aside from making threats to acquaintances about stopping the fight, kept quiet yesterday. He again attempted to have Chief of Police Martin interfere, but was refused. Johnson did some road work in the morning. On account of the cold weather and the fact that he is low in weight, he rested in the afternoon.

SO WRITES E. W. THOMSON

Well-Known Journalist, who Knows Alberta Well, Gives
Some Interesting Information

The following is an article by E. W. Thompson in the Boston Transcript:

Earl Grey is going over the route of the proposed railway to Hudson's Bay; thence back to Quebec via Labrador coast water and the St. Lawrence River. Any reasonable man of average strength might rejoice to have such a trip in wilds of innumerable cataracts, ducks, geese, deer, moose, and fur-bearing animals, his comfort cared for by the experts of the Northwest Mounted Police, and the whole charged to public account, for it is improbable that the thrifty governor-general will require the treasury to repay itself out of his allowance of $2,500 a year for travelling expenses. But everybody—and especially Mr. Clifford Sifton—will rejoice to give his lordship credit for enterprise and moral heroism in taking the long wilderness journey. Some process will be in the expedition new evidence that Mr. Sifton is our political boss, and even the only real boss Canada has ever come under.

A railroad that is Useless. He is the promoter of the Hudson's Bay Railway. The government pledged to build that line. It will run part of no terminals where very costly ones must be needed to cast the road ever carries much traffic. The Bay is navigable for three months a year—enthusiasts say four or five. It will require, if frequented by commercial steamers, immense expenditures in lights, houses and other beacons. The Hudson's Bay Railway, rolling stock will, according to the reporting engineer, lie idle nine months of the year, unless transferred to some road that can be opened in winter—a main purpose of the project is to divert traffic from Quebec and Maritime Province ports. To get traffic to these ports the government is building the National Transcontinental Railway at a cost, in cash and guarantees, of some two hundred and twenty-five million dollars. No telling, or even imagining, what the Hudson's Bay Railway will cost. Possibly it cannot be constructed, so vast and bottomless are the swamps en route said to be. Altogether, the project seems to be one of the most superfluous and premature. But Mr. Sifton favours it. He has been doing so any time the last few years, so any time he has done it.

Earl Grey can get over the road and then induce to blemish it what a grand advertisement! Oodles of British capital may be roped in. His excellency's wildwood juncture appears about as well-conceived a business project as even Mr. Sifton has ever launched. But the Hudson's Bay Railway is opposed by a great Globe, itself, of Toronto, chief Ontario Liberal paper. How Quebec and the Maritime Provinces can be reconciled to the expenditure of many millions on it, when they so much need all manner of useful development work, hangs baaled in understand. Manitoba has forced it since the mist of Manitoba antiquity, or for full thirty years. Saskatchewan also approves. Two provinces see in the scheme a short route for wheat to tide water. But Alberta, or more than half of Alberta, is nearer the Pacific coast, and would be better served by new exits to Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Some of the members of the Alberta cabinet were decidedly of this opinion last year. What has happened to them? That cabinet has been driven out of office, though it gained last year thirty-nine supporters in an assembly of forty-one. The brother of Mr. Sifton is the new premier! He is certainly a very able and respectable man, who has been chief justice of the province for some time.

A Ministry, a Victim of a Conspiracy. On the face of it, there can be no doubt that Justice Sifton resigned from the bench to serve his party, and at large pecuniary loss. He did not pay as judge was much more than it would be to pension. Equally on the face of it, he succeeds a very worthy man, Mr. Rutherford, who has, almost certainly, been made the victim of an elaborate conspiracy. He and his colleagues were charged with having corruptly entered into a guarantee of $740,000 bonds for building the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway. It was designed to open up a great north region, extending from Edmonton, Alberta's seat of government, three hundred miles. Possibly the enterprise was premature. Probably it would have paid from the start, and never cost the government a cent. An inquiry was demanded by a set of bolters from Mr. Rutherford's party in the Assembly, though they had all been elected as supporters of the road. The chief bolter was Mr. Cushing, one of the ministers, a Calgary man. Calgary is two hundred miles south of Edmonton; they are rival cities, split in the majority was largely on geographic lines. Calgary is a C.P.R. town. Edmonton has long been rather at loggerheads with the C.P.R. It was alleged that other corrupt acts would be brought home to them, were a commission of inquiry appointed.

These charges were not particularly detailed, but mere vague accusation of suspicion. No ordinary government would have yielded to the demand for an investigation, but would have insisted that clear, precise charges should be made before one were conceded. But Mr. Rutherford felt compelled. He wished to conciliate by the bold admission that his colleagues had elected on account of his spouse.

Rutherford and His Cabinet Guilties

The inquiry is about closed. It has not revealed one iota of corruption in any minister, nor even ground for reasonable suspicion of any. Not even the smallest shadow that Mr. J. P. Morgan's firm had taken the guaranteed bonds, and marketed them at ten per cent premium. Another charge, that company or syndicate which undertook the road were exposed. Nothing worse there than usual mud-slinging can be expected. The good man may have imagined that it would be enough to prove himself and his colleagues innocent of corruption. So he arranges an investigation by judges of the superior courts.

THREE CHILDREN DIED TOGETHER

Whole Family of Mr. Merritt Case Near Gleichen Was Wiped Out

FAMILY WAS IN DISTRESS

Mrs. Case Had Just Arrived and All Their Belongings Had Gone Astray

Gleichen, June 7.—The Call says: A very sad affair took place three miles north of Gleichen last week, when Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Case lost their entire family. It was reported in our last issue Mrs. Case arrived with her three children from Wetaskiwin the Friday previous, and that one of the little girls became sick, so the remaining two developed diarrhea and ear infections. On Thursday she passed away, and on the same night her little brother and sister followed her. Mr. Case had been employed as cook by Ed. McCallum on the C.P.R. Company's canal, for some time before the arrival of his family, and upon their joining him called Dr. Farquharson to attend the little girl. Upon examination the doctor telephoned to Calgary for a nurse and a specialist, and Dr. McGibbon came down. To a reporter he stated that under the circumstances everything possible had been done for the family, but they were in a very unfortunate condition, their belongings had been astray on the railroad when they reached Gleichen, and their trunks, which contained their clothing, bedding, etc., could not be found. In the shock to which they went they had only one bed and while some of the family were sleeping on straw placed in large boxes they did not have sufficient bed clothing to keep them warm, and before they made these facts known the children died, or otherwise the citizens of the town would gladly have provided them. When the men at the camp learned of the serious situation they at once generously subscribed $30 to assist the family, and everything possible was done to relieve the distress. Dr. Farquharson gave several hours of service to relieve the first who was overworked. He also wired to Edmonton and the government sent down a tent on which the father and mother were moved and made comfortable.

WIDE-AWAKE TOWN

Logansport, Ind., June 8.—While two burglars were looting a house across the street from the house in which Chief of Police Morris was sleeping, another burglar obstructed Mayor D. D. Fink's trousers from the foot of his bed.

SEND HIM UP HERE

This new umpire has all the others beaten in merry gestures and fast work. He seems to be a good amper just the same. He was pretty good on balls and strikes, and he saw everything that was going on, and he kept control of the game all the time. He will pretty nearly do if he is always as good as last night—Alberton.

THE TRIAL MEET ON JUNE 16th

Tickets Will Be on Sale in a Day
Or So—Meeting of Committee to Be Held Tonight

A meeting of the committee which has in hand the question of sending a team to the provincial meet in Lethbridge on July 1st, will hold a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. this evening at 8.30. The following members of the committee are requested to be present: Messrs. A. E. Stewart, R. Inglett, Esplin, G. W. Ward, H. V. May, who will also wait upon the oldermen of the council meeting next Tuesday evening and lay before the city fathers the claims of the Edmonton athletes to a civic grant towards the trip. The committee have also very wisely decided that they will make strenuous attempts to raise the money on their own hook. In addition to the trial meet which was mentioned, in last night's Capital, the athletes are endeavoring to arrange a football match between two of the Edmonton teams and making a collection on the grounds. It is quite certain that the sport-loving people of the city will assist all they possibly can in this project. Tickets for the trials will be printed rapidly as possible and distributed among the various associations for sale, and may also be obtained from any member of the committee.

It is hoped this meet will be the means of the committee being able to elect worthy representatives for Lethbridge, and as it will depend upon results, every man will be out for all he is worth, and the trial meet should afford a pleasant and interesting evening. It is expected the meet will take place on Thursday, the 16th instant, on the exhibition grounds.

NORWOOD WON FROM THE WHOLESALERS

Score Was 9 to 4—Attendance Large and a Good Game Was Witnessed

The second game of the city baseball league was played at Taylor park last evening, Norwood defeating the Wholesalers by a score of 9 to 4. The feature of the game was the star fielding of McCaster and Blayne. About four hundred spectators witnessed the game in spite of the weather-attraction of a professional game. Drayton umpired and is still alive.

The team—Norwood—Sants, ab; Malone, ph; Magiril, c; Weller, th; Leo Mar, s; Erickson, cf; McCaster, lf; Rutherford, r.f.; Johnson, p; Magiril, p.

Wholesalers—Davidson, ab; Blayne, s; Hardisty, lf; Foster, p; Crabbe, cf; Morrison, c; Hawkins, r.f.; Malone, ph; Johnson, c; Umpire: Drayton.

WAGNER HATES PUBLICITY

Hans Wagner is unhappy.

You wouldn't think that the champion batsman of the National League and one of the greatest ball players the world over knew would feel bad because a few people want to look at him.

But that's just the case. Especially is it so where the Pittsburghers are not playing.

All of the other members of the team can hang around the lobbies of the hotels in peace.

Not so with Honus.

If he stops for a moment's chat with any of his teammates there is a crowd that gathers about him and makes his life unbearable for him.

The crowd isn't satisfied merely to stand and look, but busts right in and tries to start a conversation with the big Dutchman.

That's one thing the big chap will not stand for. He hates to have people who do not know him attempt to open a conversation with him.

And so it is not joy in the life of the famous Hans.

He would give anything in the world to be able to sit down and talk to his pals. He can't do it without a big crowd butting in.

That's why he has to sneak off to his room and stay alone all the time.

CALLED THE TURN.

In jealous pout
George took a clout—
At Sig Hart in the morning.
And when he found
Bill Nolen 'round
He gave him timely warning.

For Little's wroth
To see them both
In Johnson's bizzness dipping;

Dame Rumor tells
A mouse he smells—
His meal ticket is slipping.

It looks as though
His cake was dough;

It's getting pretty plain he
Will get the chase

And leave his place
To Nolan or Delaney.

That there's a rent
In Johnson's tent

Reports are coming stronger.
The smoke will stand

The Little brand
Or lingo little longer

THE DOPESTER'S LAMENT

My head is ringing, mother dear, and Playing funny tunes,

O, shall I play the white man's gig,
Or strum along with coons?

I've tried to jingle this thing in Half a dozen ways,

But now I think I have it right, my last think never stays,

I'm up a stump to figure out the winner
Of the fight—the fight—

So, mother, put the tools away, I cannot dope tonight.

I've tried to think Jeff was a cinch and prove it to myself,

I've browsed through all the moldy
books upon the upper shelf;

I've followed Siler's line of thought that fitted other mills;

I've conned Ed Smith's philosophy and swallowed Cobbett's pills.

But, strange to say, with all this

I'm not convinced I'm right—

So, mother, put the pipe away, I can't smoke tonight.

I've analyzed Jack Johnson's strength and youth and other things,

And figured that he is too tough to tear beneath the wings;

I've weighed the tale that he won't dare to land the winning smash,

And that if needs be they will put some poison in his hash.

Those sinister and sordid things, they do perplex me quite—

So, mother, put the hop way, I can't inhale, tonight.

IS FLANNAGAN THE MANAGER?

He Is Probably the Man Who Started up Trouble Between Johnson and Little

If the despatch received yesterday from Frisco, stating Flanagan has been appointed manager for Jack Johnson is true, the root of the trouble between George Little and the heavyweight champion is revealed.

Flanagan has probably been at his old game of raising trouble between old friends and endeavoring to find a place of his own.

Looking back three or four years when Tom Longboat was just coming into eminence as a distance runner, we find the first evidence of Flanagan's aggressiveness.

After Tom had won his first race, the Hamilton Herald's famous "Around the Bay" fixture, a man named Rosenthal managed to get control of the redskin and took him to Toronto from the Catawba Indians. Then Flanagan, seeing a chance to exploit himself through somebody else's greatness, caused trouble between Longboat and Rosenthal.

The next thing we hear is much newspaper acclaim about "Tom Flanagan, the manager of the famous Tom Longboat." Flanagan's name was appearing to such an extent that a casual reader would think he was winning the races, not his dusky protégé.

It was Flanagan and his overbearing manner that caused the hard feeling between Longboat and Alie Shrub. In fact, the big Toronto hotel keeper acted like a curd when a meeting was held to arrange a series of meets between the Indian and the great English runner.

Flanagan came into prominence again when he left for Frisco to take charge of Johnson's road work.

Pretty soon we hear rumors that Jack and his old friend Little, who has stuck to him through thick and thin, even to covering up the black's escapades by the expenditure of thousands of dollars, are on the outs.

Nothing whatever was heard of any trouble until Flanagan the great connoisseur on road work (macadamized preferred), arrived at Camp Johnson.

To cap all this, comes the despatch announcing Flanagan's elevation to the management. Even if it is not true, we will bet about 37 cents that Modest Tom is the trouble maker and has been making a bold bid for the job.

BISCUITS WAS ROBBED

Between fall of the Zybozo-Gotch, half the prices were cut almost to nothing, and the robbers, who were a gang of about 150 men, refused to buy the $3, $5 and $10 postboxes, and the club is having no end of difficulty in straightening out the receipts. It is understood the club intends to issue a statement today in which the house will be rated at $3,500. If this statement was correct and the percentage agreement was the true basis of settlement Gotch will receive for his share $1,543.50, while Zybko will receive but $802.50.

WILL FLY ACROSS NORTH SEA NEXT

French Aviator Says Trip From England to Germany Is Feasible

Paris, June 8.—"Rolls is the first man to fly for an hour and a half over the sea," said Count Jacques de Leseps, speaking of the English aviator's feat of flying from Dover to Calais and back, and the first man too, to cross the channel in a biplane. The ease with which he accomplished the flight is a great tribute both to his skill and to the Wright machine that he used.

"There is nothing left now in the way of Channel aviation, and I wonder what will be the next thing attempted. It will probably be a flight across the North Sea from England to Germany. Such afeat is altogether feasible and I look to see it accomplished within the present year."

Blériot is Secretive.

Louis Blériot, the first of the aerial Channel crossers, was not so generous as De Leseps in his comments on Rolls' flight. "There was nothing sensational about it," Blériot said. "Rolls' success was due to his motor and the perfect condition of the weather."

"I am working on a two seat monoplane with moving wings. It will have a much greater speed than my old monoplane, and I expect to make some wonderful flights soon. France still holds first rank."
